All The Glory

John 11 vs 35

I ask that you would listen
For a moment and close your eyes
When the door is shut behind you
And nobody hears you cry

Tell me do you feel alright
Knowing that you fake a smile
Tell me do you feel alright
Knowing that you live a lie

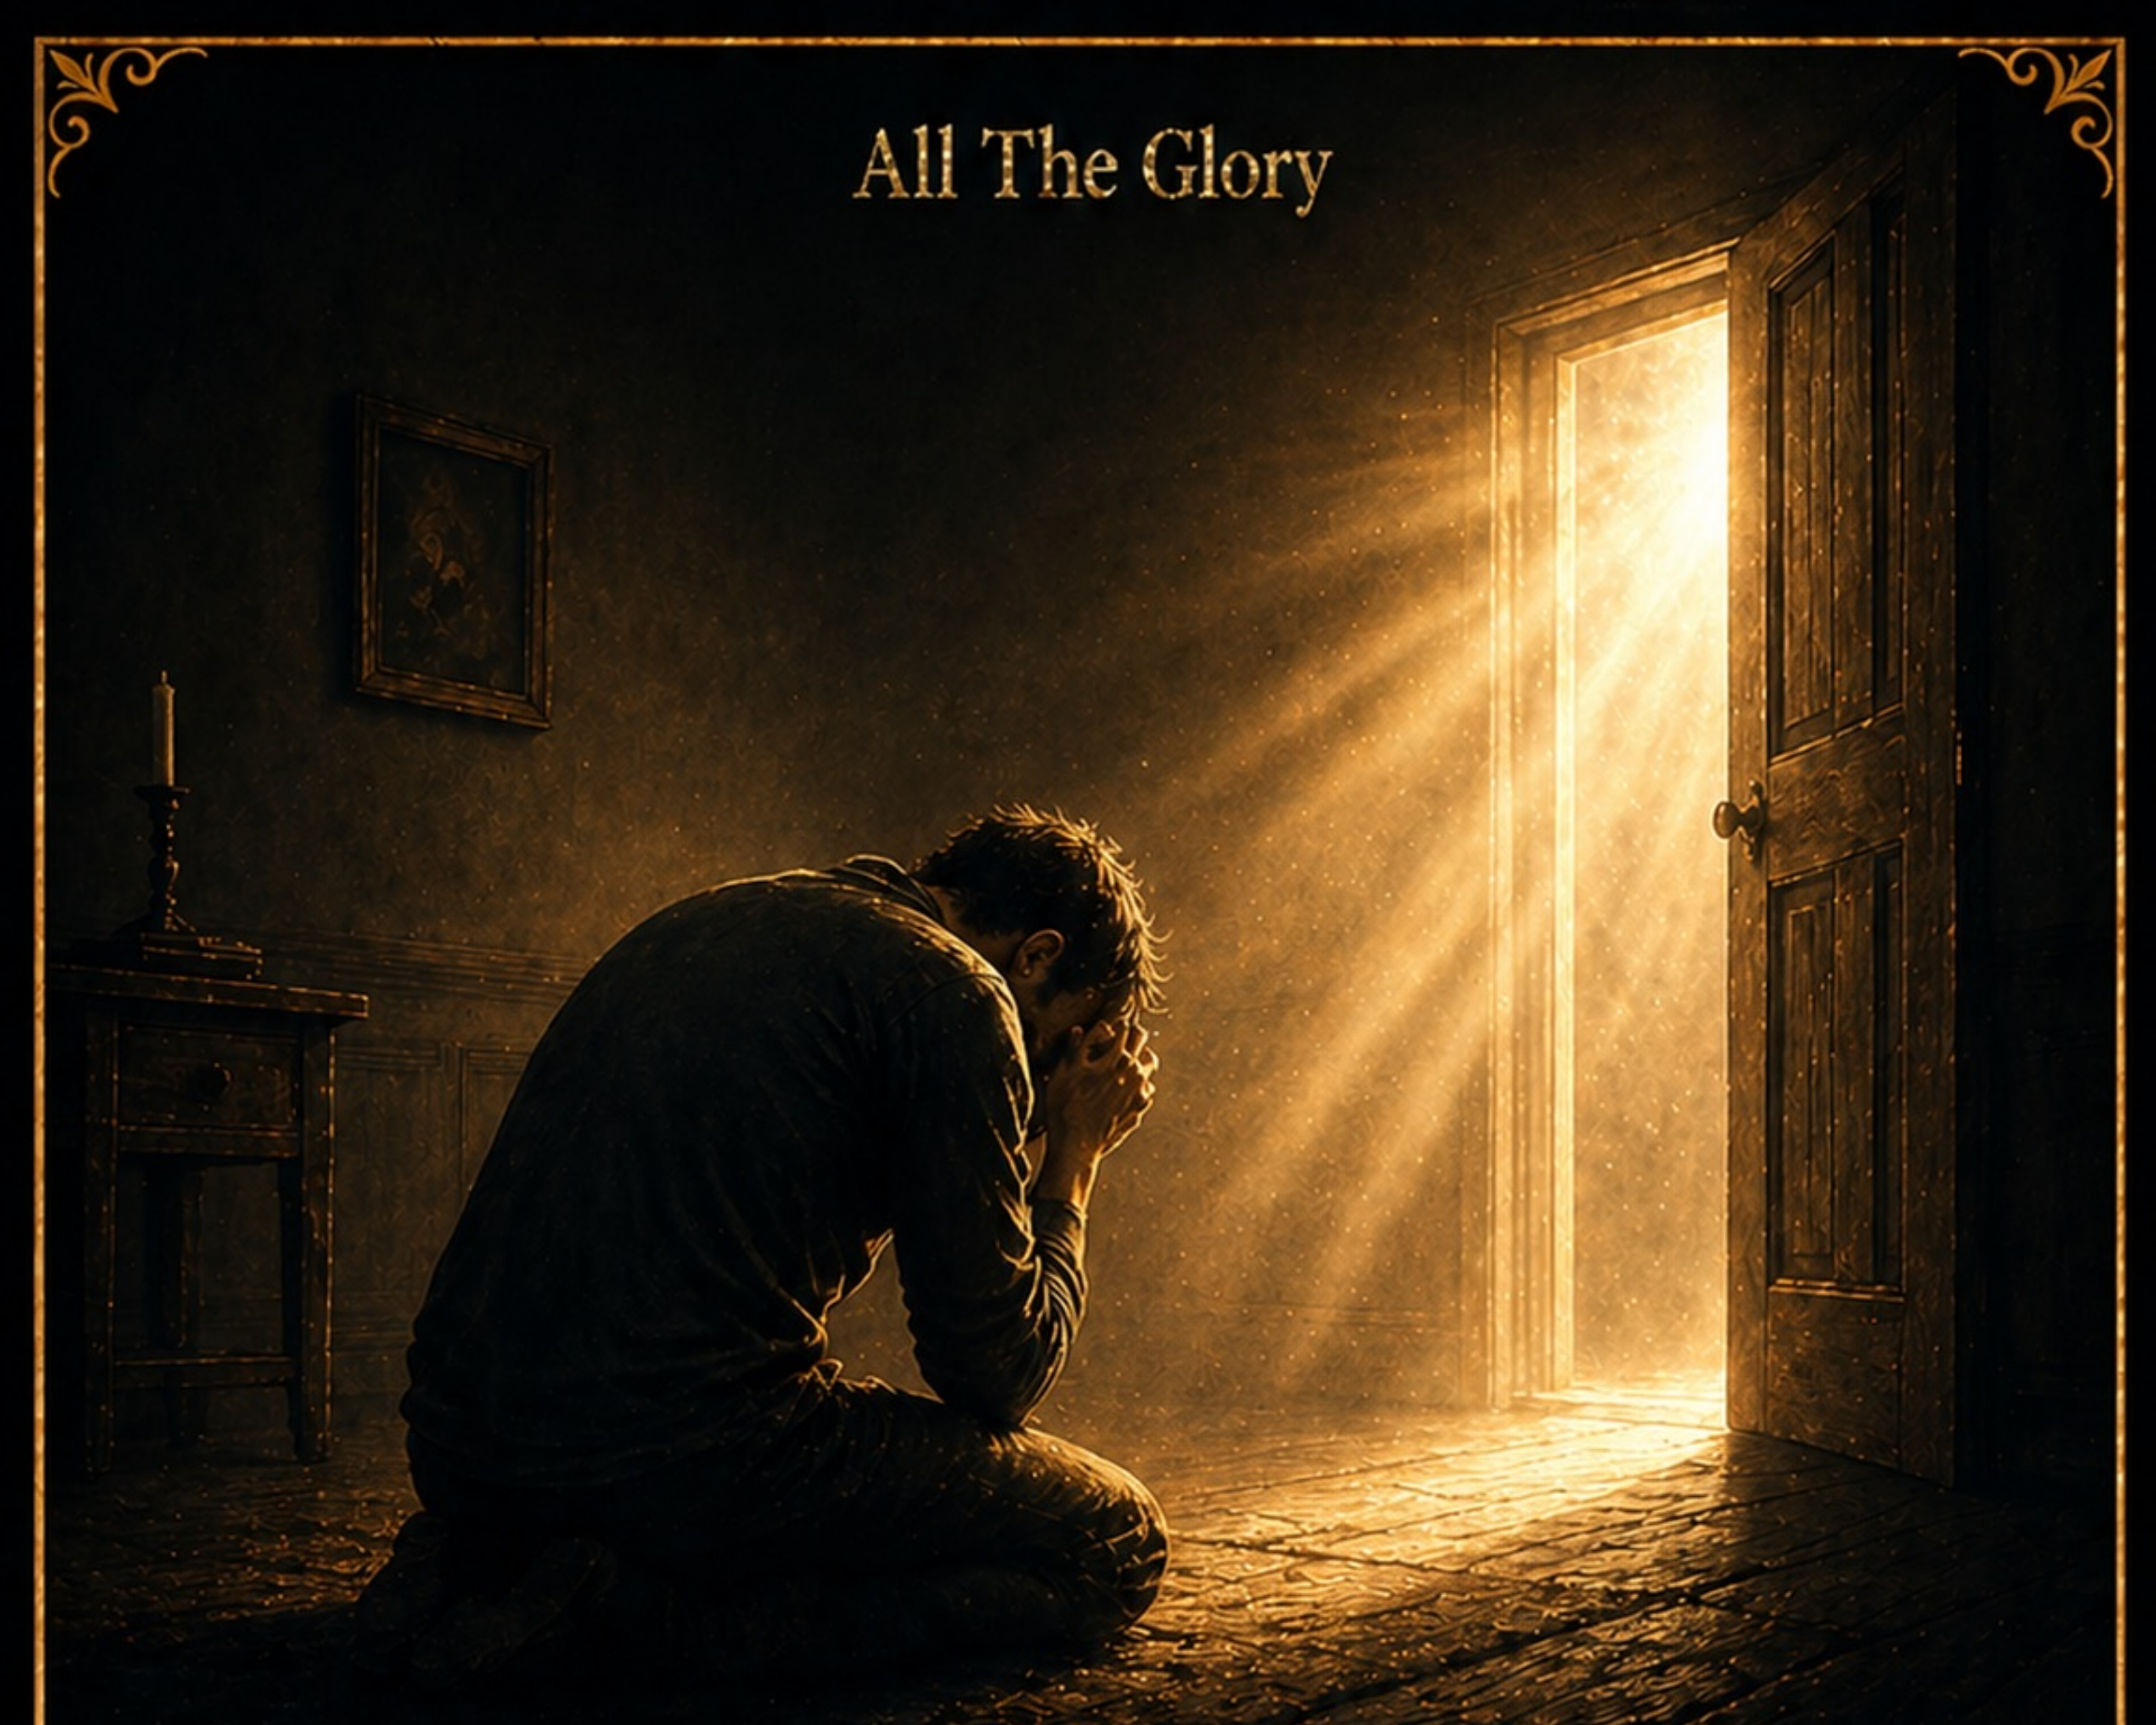

A person with dark, curly hair is sitting on a wooden floor, seen from behind. They are looking out an open, dark wooden door. A bright, golden light streams out from the doorway, illuminating the floor and the person's back. The room is dark, with a small framed picture on the wall to the left and a candle on a table. The floor is made of dark wooden planks.

All The Glory

John 11 vs 35

We are all broken
And bleeding and hurting inside
We are all longing for freedom
In a world where we won't survive

All The Glory

A man in a dark shirt and pants is kneeling on a wooden floor, facing away from the camera and slightly to the right. He has his head bowed and his hands clasped near his face in a prayerful or distressed pose. The room is dimly lit, with a small table and a framed picture on the wall to the left. A large, open wooden door on the right side of the frame is the source of a bright, golden light that streams into the room, creating a dramatic silhouette effect and illuminating the floor and the man's back. The overall mood is one of solemnity and hope.

John 11 vs 35

When you weep
You don't weep alone
When you break
You are not broken

When you're on your knees
The world does not know
You are not alone
You are loved more than you know

A man with dark, curly hair is sitting cross-legged on a dark wooden floor. He is looking out of an open wooden door towards a bright, sunlit outdoor area. The room is dimly lit, with a small table and a framed picture on the wall to the left. The light from the door creates a strong beam of light across the floor.

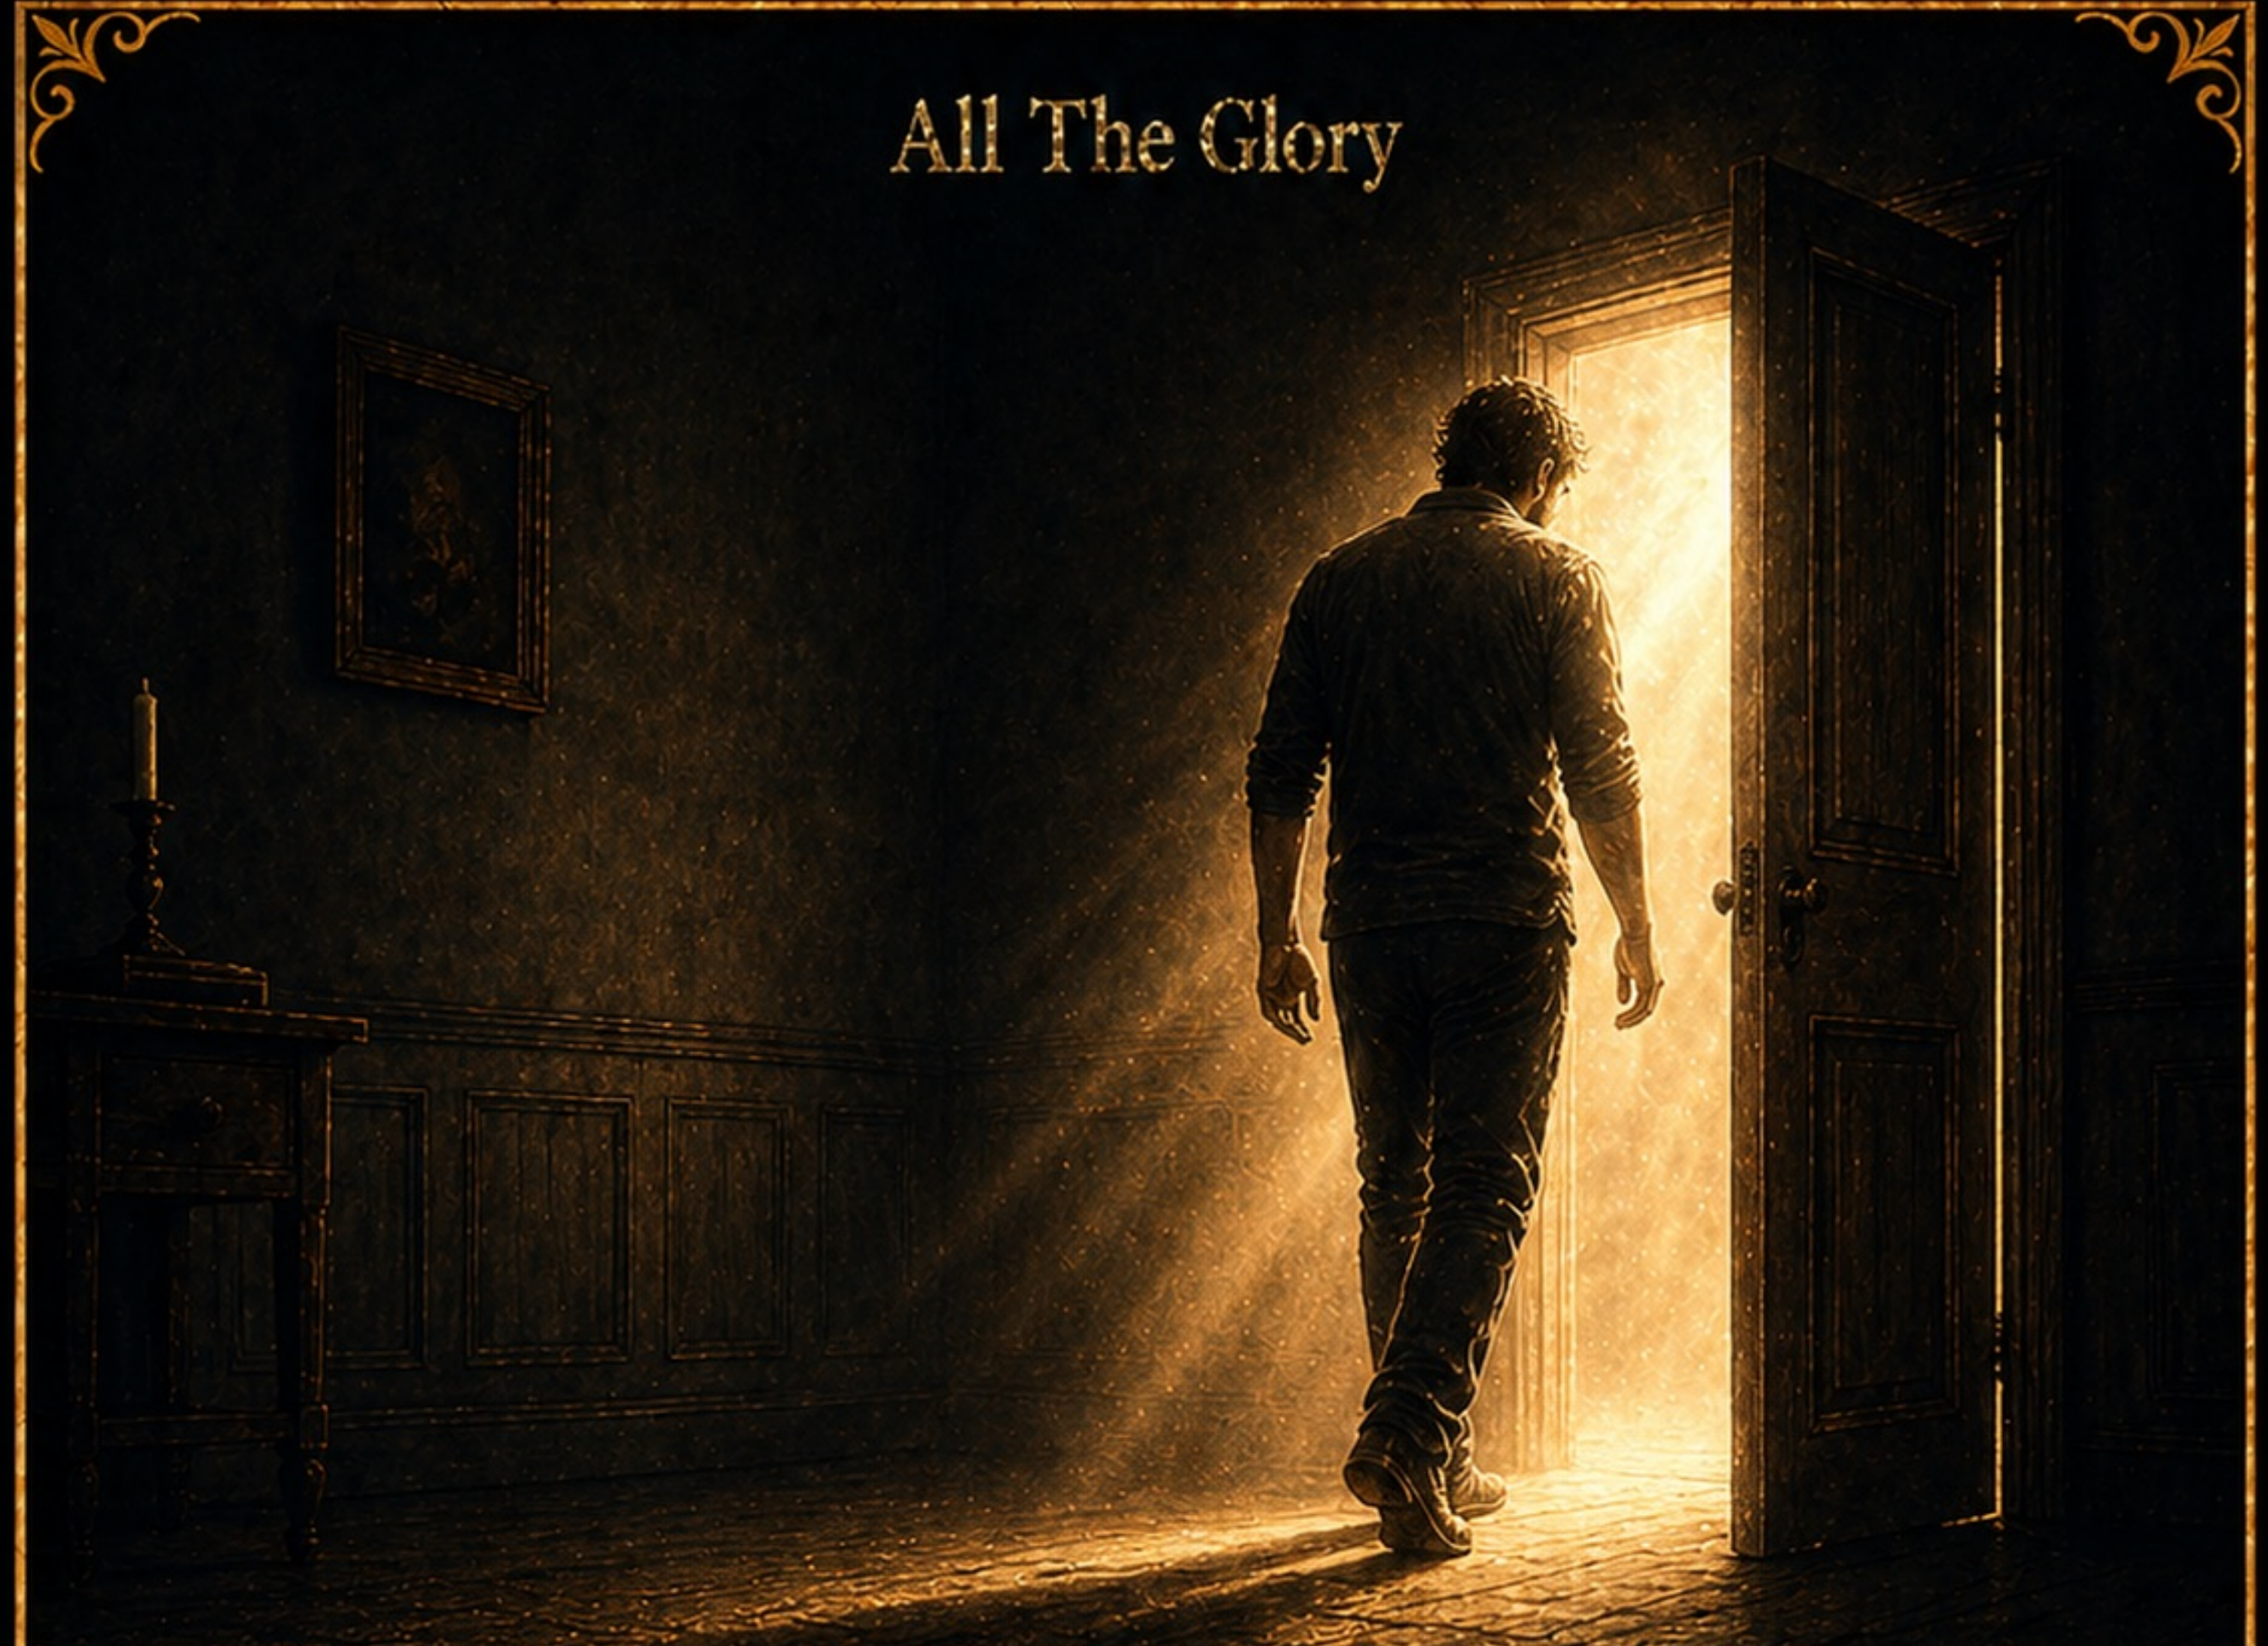

All The Glory

John 11 vs 35

I ask that you would listen
As you start to open your eyes
When you leave the walls behind you
And your tears begin to dry

Tell me do you feel alright
Knowing that you faked a smile
Tell me can you see the light
Knowing that you are alive

All The Glory

A man in a dark shirt and pants is walking away from the viewer through a large, open wooden door. The room is dark, with a small table and a framed picture on the wall to the left. The light from the doorway is bright and golden, creating a strong silhouette of the man and illuminating the floor and the wall behind him.

John 11 vs 35

We are all growing and healing
And changing inside
We are all longing for freedom
In a world where we won't survive

When you weep
You don't weep alone
When you break
You are not broken
When you're on your knees
The world does not know
You are not alone
You are loved more than you know
